NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE SCHOOL

Dear TCIS Community,

There is a lot going on this week in the TCIS Middle School. First, we have two field trips to see the Terracotta Warriors at the National Museum Bangkok. Mr. Thomas and the Chinese Department have worked hard on planning these trips so that our entire middle school can see these world-renowned artifacts. Second, we have our Middle School Spelling Bee Finals on Wednesday. We have twelve students from Grades 5 and 6 that made it to our TCIS finals, and the top will go to the National Finals. Parents are invited to attend our Spelling Bee. The times are listed below and Mr. Vic has done a great job at organizing this event. Third, we had our Parent Teacher conferences last Friday. If you were unable to attend, feel free to call the school to schedule a time to meet with your child's teacher.

In this newsletter, we have a section from our Middle School Counselor, Mr. Jeff, about his work with students on career interests and inventories, a section from Mr. Vic on the Spelling Bee, a section on our Effective Communicator Awards for September, a section on the Middle School Musical, a section on our Middle School Sports Teams by Ms. Sam, a section that has the photo for the Winners of the Multimedia Production for the Wai Kru Ceremony 2019, and a section with photos from our Double Ten Day celebration. Also, there are links for each teacher's email and Google Site.

Thank you for choosing the TCIS and please know that my office is always open to you for a conversation or to help with any issues or concerns you may have.

News from the Middle School Counselor

Hello Middle School Parents!

Over the course of the past few weeks, I have gone into each Middle School Advisory class to introduce students to an assessment which will help our students learn more about their own skills and interests. It's important for students to know that there is a link between school and their future after school, even in Middle School. During each Advisory, our students were able to navigate various websites to learn about potential careers that might connect well to those same skills and interests. Students were able to look up what skills and what degree a given job would require, salary expectations, job trends, and so much more. I explained that their skills and interests will develop over time. Something they don't like now, might become something they love in the future, and vice versa. And just because they don't possess a certain skill today, doesn't mean they won't in the future. We will continue to do different personality and interest assessments throughout the year. Each time, it is my hope that students continue to think introspectively, and then learn how to translate what they learn about themselves into the world of school and work.

If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please feel free to reach out to me directly, or stop by my office on the 2nd Floor of the Middle School, Room 526, on Friday for Parent-Teacher conferences. Have a great week!

Regards,

Jeff Chelin
